Martha's Table's mission is to serve the needs of the less fortunate in the Washington, DC community through food, learning, healthy living, recreational and family support services. The McKenna's Wagon vans are a mobile soup kitchen that operates seven days a week, 365 days a year. Each night the vans are driven and staffed by volunteers who stop at various locations in Washington, DC to feed more than 1200 hungry and homeless people serving sandwiches, soup, dessert and tea or juice.

The USDA group volunteers on the third Monday and Thursday of each month. Four volunteers are scheduled for each evening. Volunteers arrive at Martha's Table 10 to 15 minutes before the van departs (promptly at 5pm) and return to Martha's Table around 7pm. We especially need people who are willing to drive the van during rush hour in downtown Washington, but we also need regular volunteers so please don't hesitate to sign up. You are needed.

Depending upon their schedule, some people volunteer every month, some every other month, some just when there's a gap in the schedule. If you'd like to join our team, please return this form to Brooke Markley or Kelly Shaw with your preferences for frequency and day of the week. The grey areas will expand as you fill them in. Please don't hesitate to call if you have any questions.
